Next owner was MR. AND MRS. GIL CYR. Gil and Pauline and their family: Diane Joanne
Carol
Robert

They did some farming, but built a Purina Mill and feed store there on the east part of the lot. This they operated, in addition to running school buses for Augusta Township School Area Board and later South Grenville District High School.

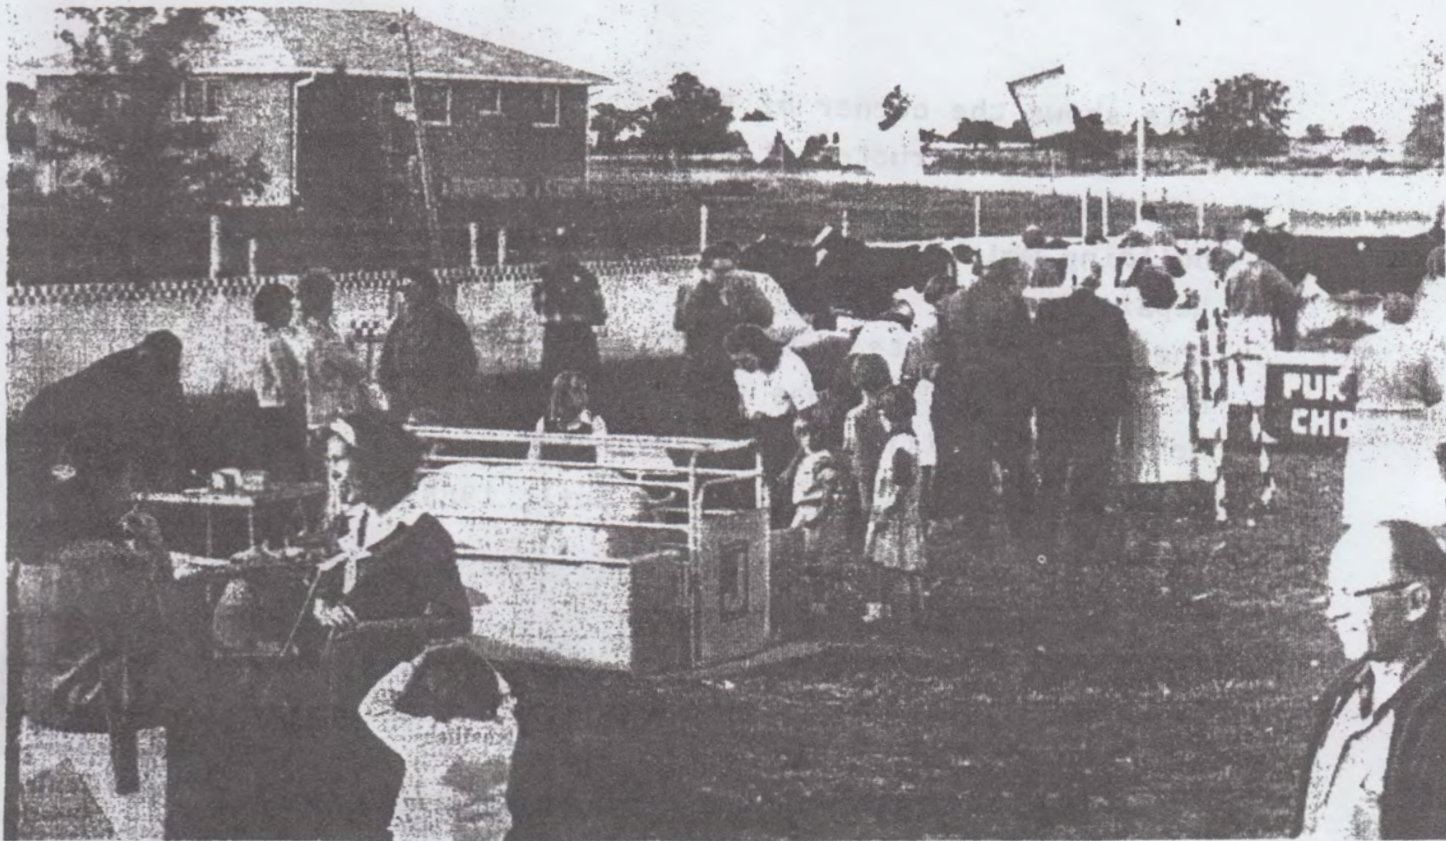

1976 they sold the farm and business, reserving part of the land, to MR. AND MRS. JOHN VANDERMEY, who operate the farm machinery business. The feed store is now operated and owned by BERRY FEEDS, with Don Francis employed as salesman.

Note: It is thought, but cannot now be proven, that the small stone structure adjoining the main house may have been an early residence on this lot, probably the second such house, following the first which would likely have been log building.

MAYNARD FEED STORE grand openin
Gil Cyr, proprietor

List prize winners at feed store opening

Well over 100 farmers and their families from the Maynard district and surrounding communities attended last Wednesday night's grand opening of Cyr's Feed Store in Maynard.

Guests were treated to a free lunch and spent the early part of the evening taking part in guessing games.

A number of farm animals were placed in pens in the community rink adjoining the Cyr store and those in attendance were invited to enter their answers in the various contests.

George Robinson had the correct guess for the number of pigs the sow had produced in her lifetime and William H. Ferguson was closest in guessing the weight of a Holstein calf.

Marie Byrnes guessed the weight of the Hereford bull and Leif Lippert came up with the correct answer in determining the number of eggs a cage of hens had laid during the week.

Mrs. Helen Burchill won the cow judging contest and one of the amusing highlights of the evening, a husband-calling contest, was won by Mrs. George Warren.

Klaas Vandernaee won the pie eating contest and the balloon blowing honors were taken by Ken Robertson. A prize went to Ronnie Meadow of Brockville for being the first person to whistle after eating a handful of crackers.

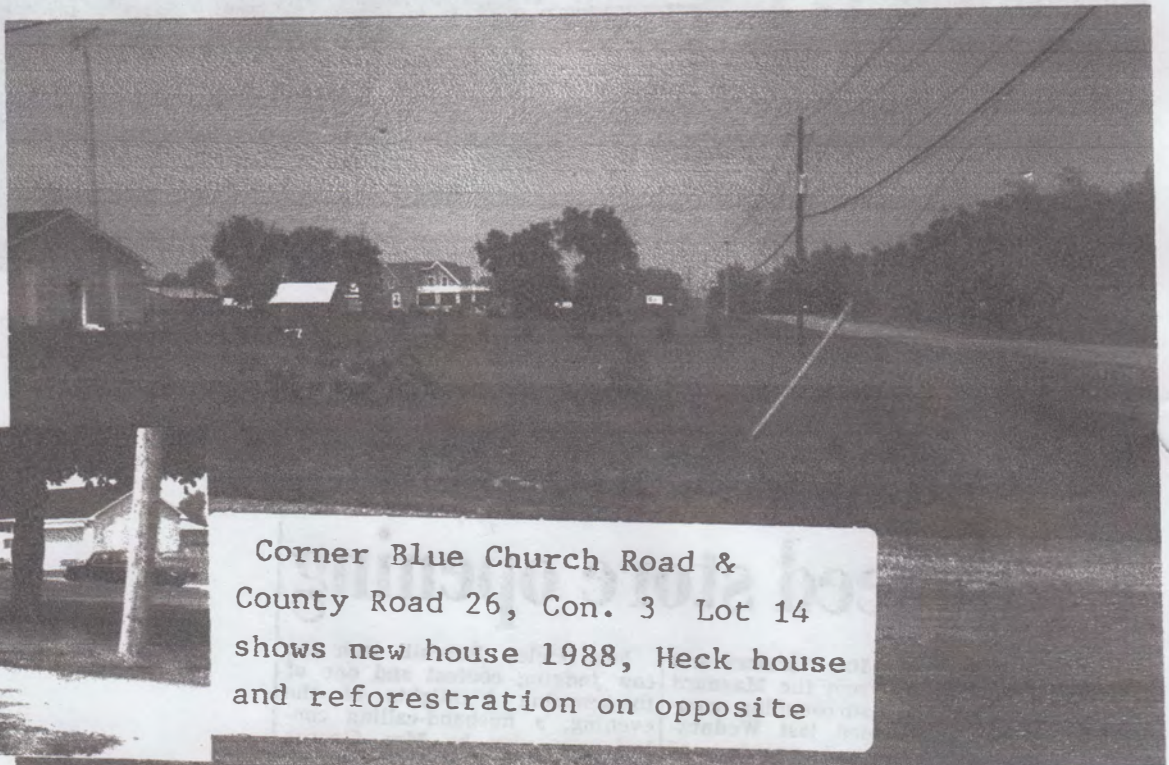

Prizes were awarded to youngest and oldest persons in attendance with two-month-old Robert Harper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harper, Spencerville, taking the junior category and 84-year-old Mrs. S. Reid, also of Spencerville was the senior guest in attendance.

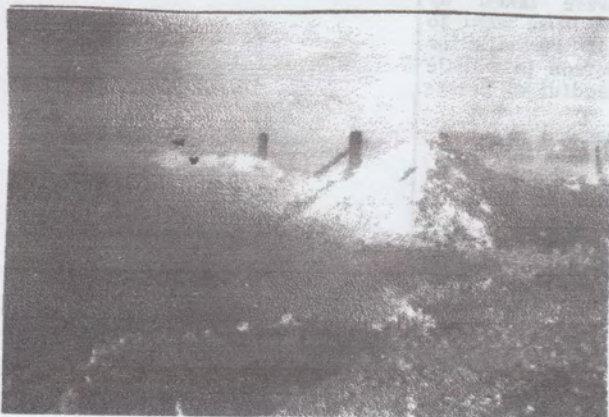

This shows the corner of Blue Church Road and County Road #26. New house constructed at the corner 1988, the stone house, now occupied by the Vandermey family, and in the background the metal building which is part of the establishment of Brockville Truck Repair Centre.

The pine reforested lot on the south side of the County Road was at one time a Christmas tree farm, but went wild when the owners moved out. (Philip and Mildred Carr)

house built 1898
-E.D.P. diary

The original owner of this property was THOMAS BIRKS, who willed it to his son-in-law, WILLIAM PERRIN.

DELBERT PERRIN, his son, was next owner, inheriting from his father. He took his bride there in 1892, CYNTHIA SPICER.

JOSEPH LANE (Joed) purchased it from Delbert. and at his death it was sold again, this time to WILLIAM J. BARTON. Mr. Barton leased the farm to several tenants, but did not occupy it himself. Finally he sold to OWEN WHITE.

When advancing years forced Mr. White to retire, Mr. and Mrs. GORDON HANNA came to live with him for a time. After a year, the farm was sold to W. MACKENZIE who came from Quebec province. Mr. White died 1949.

--this from Mrs. Cynthia Perrin.

1951 the property was owned by MRS. BRADLEY, and the barns burned, cause unknown.

1955 MR. AND MRS. PHILIP CARR bought from Mrs. Bradley the house and 7 acres of land fronting the Concession 3. Mr. Carr was employed at Dupont of Canada, Maitland. Their daughter, Kathleen, and son Langton, attended local schools, and Mrs. Carr was very active in Women's Institute. Perhaps the Hat-making Course which Millie conducted was the most popular for some time, and she continued this teaching in Prescott and Brockville.

The property has changed hands numerous times since the Carr family moved. Karen Foley opened a hair dressing business there for a time.

1973 sold to MR. AND MRS. KENDALL.

1981 occupied and owned by Mr. and Mrs. J DETMOLD, and her mother Mrs. Dora Patrick.

CHRISTMAS TREE FARM....the Carr family planted pine trees, with the plan of operating a Christmas tree business. However, at their leaving, the trees were not pruned, and have just grown naturally.

Special day

Friends, family and Wellington House residents helped Dora Patrick mark her 103rd birthday on Tues., Aug. 29. Mrs. Patrick was born in England in 1886 and has lived in Canada for 53 years. Helping Mrs. Patrick celebrate the occasion are special friend Robert Barton, and Mrs. Patrick's daughter, Joan Detmold.

Mr. Godfrey William Detmold died Feb. 7, 1985 at 94 years

From Mrs. Mildred Carr, Jan 15, 1980.

1954 Mr. and Mrs. Philip Carr purchased 10 acres on the corner of this lot. Of this, they planted 9 acres to trees, 1,000 seedlings each year for 10 years. The first year, 1955 they were mostly Scotch pine. The southern border was Lombardy poplar, due to the wet condition of the land.

The first Christmas trees were sold 1961. Money from the sale of these trees helped Langton through University.

September 1970 they sold the farm, and moved to Eagle Lake. Mrs. Carr still lives there, a widow now. She works in a gift shop during the summer months.

LANGTON, THE son, married August 1979.

KATHLEEN, the daughter, worked in British Columbia for a time, 1980 is in Whitehorse, Yukon, working as a Chartered Accountant...(CPA).

A fresh look

Spring 1991

Nothing freshens up the appearance of a home the way a beautifully landscaped and managed lot does, and Dutch Green Landscaping is now offering a retail plant outlet to homeowners looking to redesign their lawn and gardens. On hand all week to answer questions at Dutch Green's garden centre in Maynard is Inge vanStralen, here showing off some young plants to her son Nicholas.
