

RANDOM SHOTS, 1977

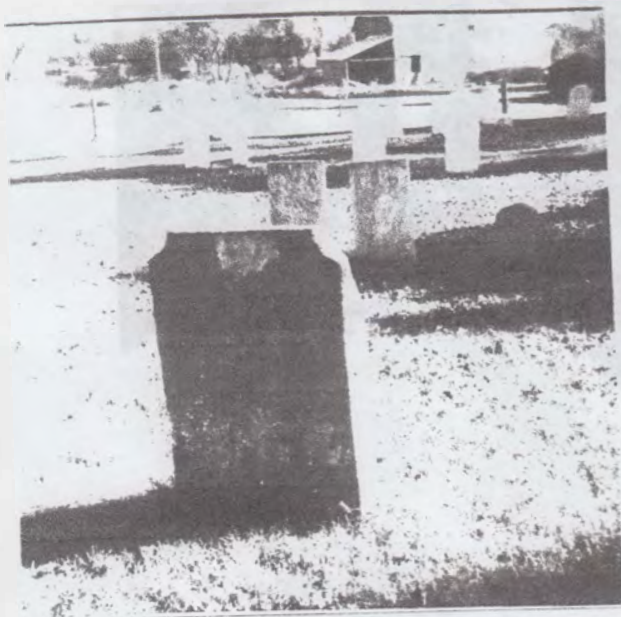

These random shots show the earliest part of the burying grounds, at the rear of the Methodist Chapel, and now the Soldiers' Memorial stone. Note the field stone markers, worn with the elements, to be lost as to identity.

The white stone at the left is that of Lieut. John Dulmage who fell at the Battle of the Windmill, Nov. 13, 1838.

In this part of the cemetery on August 1, 1814, the first known burial was made. Directly back of the cenotaph, is a small stone recording the burial of Ruth, daughter of Joseph and Louisa Scott, aged 16 years, 5 months. This was before the Methodist Chapel had been erected in 1818. Also recorded here is the burial of Sally, wife of Robert Ralston, July 1818, and Eben Sherwood, August 1818.

Caretaking

Sec. - treas.

Maud Row
1925 - 1926

Nellie Attridge
1926 - 1949

Goldie A. Connell
1949 - 88

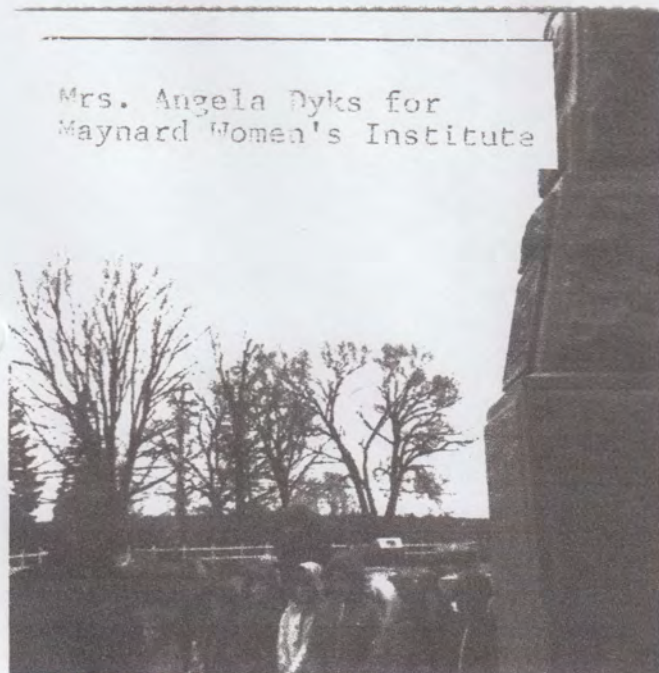

Claud Cheetham
caretaker
1959 - 1990+

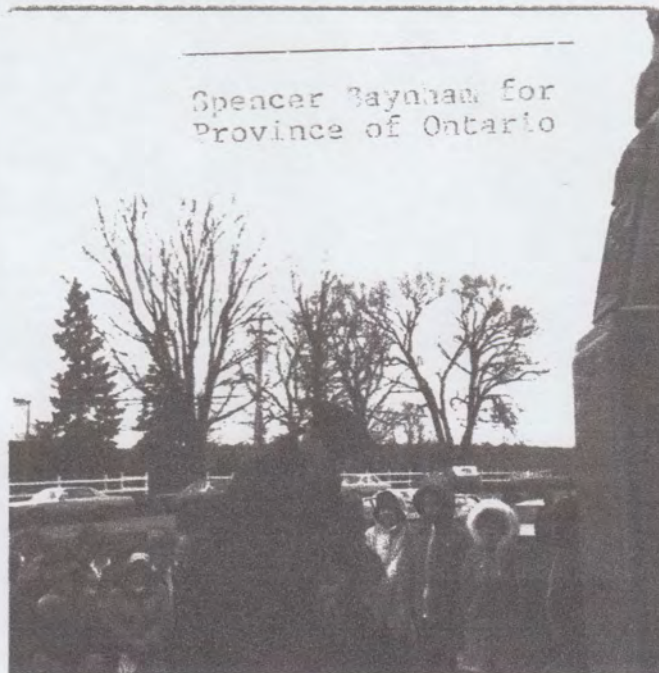

CHRISTINE BAKER, 1983
placed Memorial flowers

Mrs. Angela Dyks for Maynard Women's Institute

Spencer Baynham for Province of Ontario

1984 Jennifer Durant

LIEUT. JOHN DULMAGE
2nd Regiment, Grenville Militia who gloriously fell in action
while fighting for his Queen and Country against the rebels and brigands at the Windmill near Prescott on the 13th day of

Nov. 1838, aged 37 yr. 17 days.
This tablet is erected in affectionate remembrance of a loyal and gallant friend by his brother officers.

Efforts at restoration
1982-83

Inscription reads:
United Empire Loyalist
WILLIAM SCOTT

born in Glasgow, Scotland, 1732
died in Augusta, 1832
British refugee from Boston, Mass., who settled on Crown Grant lands in 1783, now known as Lots 6, 7, and 8, Augusta

J. Robinson, W.J. Barton, C. Whitley
R. Weir, Robt. Simpson, I. Lane

Lori Pritchard
Aug. 31, 1986

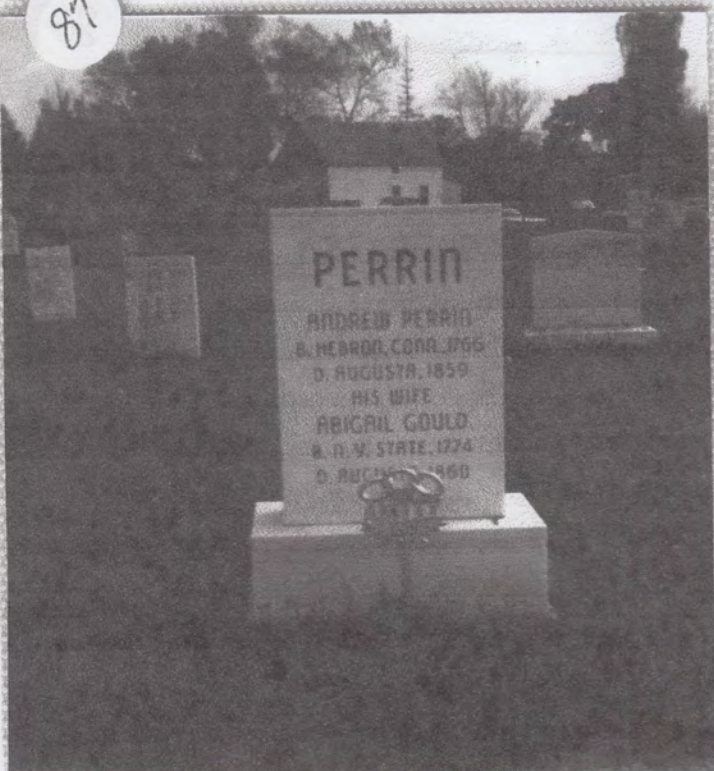

Restoration work done on the stone marking the grave of Lieut. John Dulmage. A metal border was placed around it, and it was strengthened with a new base. --Carl Durant.

Cenotaph showing benches in memory of
Wm. L. Durant

87

COMMUNITY SERVICES AWARD, 1988
Egbert Fretwell from J. Cossitt, MP

The stone marking the burial places of ANDREW and ABIGAIL PERRIN was too far gone to be repaired. It was replaced through the efforts of two gr-gr-gr-granddaughters - Goldie Perrin Connell and Hazel Perrin Jones.